Just thinking about all the young people we lost at White Oak, Cody, Mikey, Blake, Dane...and it seems we all kind of ended up hanging out together at one time or another. I only got to know you for a short time, living on the same block, occasionally we'd walk home together or chat on my front porch after school about music or whatnot. I remember you being a deep thinker for your age. You were such a kind & funny person. And even though I didn't know you long, it was long enough to always remember you. Now I have a 13 year old son of my own, and I can't imagine losing him so young. He's got dimples too. My heart still breaks for you & your family. It's not fair.

It's hard to believe it's been 15 years since you walked this earth. I'm sitting in my office at work thinking about the person you were. All I can do is smile. You always brought so much life to every situation you were in. I remember sitting on the phone with you while you played the guitar and sang "Don't take the girl". I wasn't much on country music so that was the first time I've ever heard it and when I hear it now, all of think of is you. I think about all your funny ways, and how you would pretend to fall just to make people laugh. I think about all those times you walked to my house and then drove from white oak :-/ lol. I think about our relationship that then just turned into a friendship that I will forever cherish. We talked boys, girls, and everyday life; almost every single day. Even though we always "crushed" on each other we were the best of friends. I think about the last couple of months of your life and how I wish things could've turned out different for you. I remember how much you talked about your mom, aunt and brothers and how you loved them. You had a lot of friends, a few close ones. You knew how to love and accept people for who they were and how you only wanted them to view you the same way. I have every letter you ever wrote me... good or bad ha! I have every email. Every picture. I have all the memories stored inside my heart. We had a song we loved for each other called Dilemma by Nelly. It was so true. Being so young we experienced a lot of life with each other. It took me along time to heal from losing you. I went from everyday talking to you for hours or even just 30 minutes to nothing, it just stopped. You were my best friend. You were always trying to find yourself. Whether a cowboy, a gangster or just a boy. I remember the path you wanted to be on, but it always just seemed to be hard and far away. One thing I can say, is the life you lived, you lived it with love and laughter. I don't think we truly heal from losing people, I think God just makes it easier for us to live the life he created for us. I pray often that you are in peace. In my heart I know you are happy, dancing, playing music, falling, and laughing with Jesus. I pray for peace in your Moms heart and all your family. Thank you for being my guardian angel and serval others. Love always, Lauren

LOL Anyways baby boy i miss everything we had, i miss the little things that seemed so crazy and tiny back then, but.. truly- in my heart those are the ones that keep me smiling. Like the night we watched Next Friday in your room- you laying on your bed smiling like a fool. Later when i was "leaving" for like an hour.. it was freeeezing that night and my hands were cold- you took my hands and rubbed them with yours and then blew into them trying to warm them up.. it worked for a few minutes, but when i got cold again you started my car and started my heater and we talked, goofed off and held eachother until the heat met your standards LOL. Anyways its those little things. You stole my cherry stem antenna ball and ran ALL THE WAY around your block screaming that you had my cherry. LOL you stole my heart baby boy, and it is still in your hands, along with my class ring on your finger. I love you Hunter Keith and I always will. you and your papaw atch over me and your mom, chip and chase, your dad, little jackson, aunt mindy, JB, phillip, mark & monica.. everyone misses you snowball i cant wait until we're together again. Um... I don't really know where to start or what to start with but Hunter, you know you had a huge impact on my life. Um, from all the times we sat in my front yard at 3 in the AM to just chillin wit you and ur boys. You always told me to wait until I found someone I loved and not to get into anything that would get me in trouble. The other day I was cleaning out my closet and I found a piece of paper that you wrote to me and I just realized how much I miss you. The paper had ur s/n and phone number on it from along time ago when I couldn't rememebr them. Just so you know I met someone who misses you more than anything and he has changed my life significantly too. Just the other day we talked for about 2 hours about you. It kills me to know that I won't be able to chill with until I'm up there with you. But I can promise you that you ARE the most loved and missed person I have ever met. I wake up every morning and look at your picture and that paper you wrote me. I hope you know the extenet of the love that we have for you. From what I've read so far this girl named Lauren really loved you. and She still does. I'm sorry I couldn't make it to your funeral or memorial but we had a memorial thing at school for you on Dec. 5. Everyone stood in the high school gym and cried and tlaked about how much they miss you. I don't think there is a day that oes by that you don't cross someone's mind. I remmebr when I came over and we ate ice cream out of the cartons and had a brain freeze for like ever. We had fun and I hope you'll always remember me. hey baby boi~ I went to Matt's funeral last Friday and I finally came to see you.It's been 11 months since you went home and I never went and saw you once. I'm sorry it took me so long.I just knew if I went to your grave then I'd have to really admit you're gone. I cried so hard and didn't really say everything I wanted to because I was just too upset that day. But everything is going good right now.Kelsey and all us are still tripping and pulling stupid stunts now and then on the loop. But you're really missed boi.It's not the same without you and all the others we've been losing. i know you are doing a lot better up there and that you're chillin with the angels, but I still hurt and think of you everyday. I used to cry a single tear each day, yet now I smile for I know you're having a blast up there. Darcie's got a class with your brother and he's doing good,real good. I know I'll keep going for you and live everything to the fullest.To all of your true friends who've loved you through it all,you're still here with us.You're partyin, chillin, singing, and just lovin us through everything.I'm still watching out for Zac and Brandon.Keep looking down on us and chill with all our friends who are now angels.I'm always thinking of you each step I take.Save a place for me.I love you..my angel,my blood,my bubba*##imported-begin##Emily Wilson##imported-end##

Im trying to get Tank to go out to the gravesite but he kind of acts like he don't want to, the reason is because he'll just break down again. I don't think it's fully hit both of us yet. I still think that your just off and Im just waiting for you to come back. It'll hit Tank and I hard this summer when your not there for all the parties anymore. R.I.P. Hunter Keith Wilson Oh boi, you have no idea how much your death has effected us all. I remember how so near to your end we got really close.... we've always been friends, but i told you everything. Hell, boy problems and all. I was thinking of calling you the other day like 3 days b4 you died and now i wish i did. I thought i was too busy.. But, good always comes out of the bad. I now hug ALL my friends.. lol, the ones i can get a hold of.. EVERYDAY and as much as possible, because you never know what is going to happen. Now, i don't feel like fighting with anyone anymore because if you do, you never know when or how their going to go, and then if they left with yall being enemies, then, hell... you will feel bad all your life.. anyways, i know i'm rambling.. i just wanted to say, boi, i love you so much, your like a brother to me, and i'll never forget you. Dear Mr and Mrs Williams and Mr Wilson.. As a parent of Bobby Garner who just recently passed this oct i definately feel your pain and sorrow. Absolutely no words can take away the pain of losing a child...As parents, this is an unnatural thing for us to do to bury our child...I'm not going to tell you that Hunter is in a better place, because as a parent, the better place is with YOU, that's what we feel in our heart...But the Lord called upon Hunter to come "Home" just as He called upon my son...I found out about Hunter last night from a mutual friend of Hunter's and Bobby's...Please lean on eachother as this horrible time...For i am a single parent with no family or spouse to lean upon... There are MANY books out there that have helped me get through the grief..Also, as a nurse, even though ya'll may feel that you can handle the grieving process on your own, there is counseling out there that should be utilized...If not for yourself, then for your son... I feel his pain also, for i am the one that found my son... I'm so VERY sorry for your loss of your child whom, from what i can tell was a lot like my son... making people laugh and smile...Please lean on our Lord and savior, He will help you through this...He can't take away the pain, but He will be there to hold your hand through the what is sure to be the most horrific time in your lives...I will keep ya'll in my prayers... and please remember, you now have the BEST guardian angel one could possibly hope for!Sincerely,Diana NagleP.S. Should you want the names of the support groups or the names of the books that i have utilized, please feel free to contact me via email...
