Kristi and Family, Four years ago today, August 11th, Mother passed away. It still hurts so much, but it will get better. If you need someone to talk to or anything I can do, just call me. You will have so many first this next year. Your first Christmas without your Dad, etc. You and your family know how unhappy he has been without your Mom, now they can be together forever and that is what you want for them. Your friend and cousin, Pat
