Grief never ends, but it changesIts a passage, not a place to stayGrief is not a sign of weaknessIt is the price of LOVE.She was so loved Jimmy. I doubt that any words at this time help. I'm just in shock to think I won't hear her voice again, or share our thoughts. I loved sending her cards and silly things.....I miss her more than words can say Jimmy.

I first met Loveta almost fifty years ago. We shared many adventures throughout our high school years and way beyond. Later in life I worked with her in the finance industry. I cannot imagine a world without Loveta. Russell, I was there when you were born. Jimmy, I was there when she met and fell in love with you. Rick, you know how long we've known each other. For each of you I hope you find comfort in the knowledge that Loveta was loved by many people, and will be deeply missed by all who knew her. My thoughts and prayers will be with you through this trying time. Sherry Dobbins Walker

Loveta was more than a friend. She was a counselor, humorist, the voice of wisdom and always a shoulder to lean on. She was an individual that really cared. She taught water aerobics but I believe that was just her platform to reach out and be an encouragement to those of us that were hurting and needed someone to care. We all felt better after visiting with her, she had a gift of compassion. God created a wonderful person when He created her. He used her powerfully in My wife's life and mine. Thank you God for Loveta
