When you think of Bob you would also think of Carol. Bob and Carol were kind and genuine people. They opened their hearts to those around them and were the most down to earth people you would meet. They both will be missed. Words can't truly describe this loss. But we want you each to know that we all were blessed to know both of them.

I have known Bob for over 15 years. I enjoyed many conversations with him about all kinds of subjects.... world news, politics, chopping wood, and his love for Carol and their pets. He loved being outside cutting trees or working around his place. He will be missed. My prayers are for peace and comfort for his family. --- Rick James
