Wesley Green posted:

I met Johnnie in 1966 and worked with him for approximately 40 years. I admired Johnnie's work ethic, dedication and abilities that continually set a high standard for others. Johnnie quietly and unselfishly mentored and taught his profession to others that worked with him and wanted to learn. Johnnie was the type of person that I would call a "good man" in every respect and made this world a better place. Respectfully, Wesley Green
