Margaret and I worked at Henderson Daily News together in the mid 1980's. Her mother, Mrs. Carter, lived across the cattle guard and down the road from my grandparents, the Alewine's. My grandmother always told us not to go down to Mrs. Carter's house and bother her, well we could not get there fast enough! So, I feel like I have known Margaret all my life. When I started working at HDN, I loved sharing this story with her! Margaret was always so nice and pleasant to work with. Lisa Linder Barnett, New London, TX

Family, Margaret was my HDN advertising rep for several years. Always eager to please and so helpful. I was in and out of the building for different things, and we often had a good visit. IF she were in the office, not on deadline, not on phone, not with another client, not totally tied up, which was the case most of the time. I'm glad we became friends. Gay Allen
