I have known Debbie for several years. Bill was in a Sunday School Department, Sword of the Spirit, and I was the director some years back. Debbie was in a wheelchair and did not come often, but Bill did. They lived in Longview then. More recently, I visited Debbie at her home on a Thursday when our church was doing an outreach to people who could not attend any more. She and I had a wonderful time. I brought her a cookie from FBCL and swept off her porch where we sat and looked out over the hay bales in the pastures. I commented to her that she certainly lived in a beautiful place. She wanted me to come again, but we never got to do that. I will miss her too. Nell Collins
